"Diamond's marble surface is fragmented into a visual game of geometries"

Marble is cut like a gemstone...

...into striking triangular facets in Paolo Ulian and Moreno Ratti's Diamond washbasin for Kreoo. Measuring 18 or 20 inches in diameter and 6 or 7 inches high, the basin is available from the maker in over two dozen marbles and quartzites that span the chromatic spectrum. Offered polished or matte, Diamond can be positioned business-as-usual flat on its base or tilted to perch on a side facet—a trick that lends visual lightness to the weighty material and dynamism to the bathroom.
