1. KREOO TWO-TONE MARBLE BASINS

A unique bicolored effect is created by two marbles joined together with different veins and shades. This harmonious contrast of natural materials is the hallmark of the two countertop basin collections Blessed and Dame, designed by Christophe Pillet for Kreoo, which play on the concept of refined antithesis and transform it into design. The pure formal linearity of Blessed, in the circular or rectangular version, is deliberately interrupted by the contrast between Bianco Calacatta and Rosso Lepanto, Artik Green and Verde Alpi, or in the customisable match of the six marble proposals available for this product. The combination finds its meeting point in the top edge, hand-finished to an extremely thin thickness, such extraordinary when combined with natural stone.

2. AKULA LIVING ICON DINING TABLE

The Akula Icon Dining Table is meticulously designed for hospitality and commercial spaces. Its marine-grade, triple powder-coated aluminium frame ensures unparalleled durability, even in demanding environments. Topped with a scratch-resistant ceramic surface, this iconic table effortlessly transforms dining settings into unforgettable experiences. Expertly engineered with an unwavering commitment to precision, it stands as the top choice for restaurants, hotels, and spaces dedicated to maintaining a distinctive charm.

3. SOLIDWOOL HEMBURY CHAIR

The Hembury Chair perfectly demonstrates the beauty and natural variation of Solidwool. Each chair shell is made from approximately one fleece and bio-resin. Sculptural and comfortable it is both light for everyday purposes and strong for commercial settings. Made entirely from British materials by skilled craftspeople in a specialist production unit, the legs are locally sourced British Ash turned by hand with an oiled or scorched finish and the frame is recycled steel. A chair with timeless appeal, designed to last and be cherished.
